A Message from the Director

I express my sincere appreciation for your consistent support of The Art Museum of Eastern Idaho (TAM). The Museum’s partnerships with so many individuals, local businesses, foundations, international corporations, and all levels of government has always played an important role in enabling TAM to offer quality arts programming while maintaining consistent, fiscal sustainability. Since 2003, we have been able to impact well over 130,000 students, teachers, and families through our educational outreach program alone. Leveraging pARTnerships allows each of us as individuals to make a meaningful and lasting impact on our community that would otherwise not be possible on our own.

Just when I was beginning to wonder if the hurdles of governmental bureaucracy could ever be overcome, a wise friend reminded me that anything worth doing always takes longer than you anticipate. Shortly thereafter, the long-awaited, official “greenlight” for TAM’s education wing arrived in the mail! Thanks to a coordinated effort by Idaho Falls’ Economic Development Director, Dana Briggs, under the direction of Mayor Casper, and assistance from Congressman Mike Simpson’s office, what had begun to seem impossible just weeks ago, became possible.

Thanks to their collaborative efforts, the dream of an arts education wing that can broaden the impact of TAM’s exhibits and art educational opportunities now and into the future is alive. In addition to continuing to offer the award-winning educational programming that has become synonymous with TAM, we eagerly anticipate the day when the ceramic studio equipment recently donated by retiring ceramicist EJ Hirchfield can come out of museum storage and be utilized by up-and-coming ceramicists and when community art organizations have a gathering space that is conducive to creating artwork together.

While there will undoubtedly be many more hurdles as we move forward in turning our “dream into a reality,” I am strengthened in remembering the many who have gone before and that we don’t have to do it alone.

As members of our TAM family, I invite you to consider the naming right opportunities this new wing affords—whether it be of the entire wing, a classroom or a single brick in the patio overlooking the river—as a way to leave your personal legacy of art, education and culture along the banks of the Snake River for generations to come. Together, we can do it!

Miyai Abe Griggs
TAM Executive Director
A Message from the President

What a great year it has been! As you will see in this report, TAM has featured some exciting exhibits over the past year, and hosted some great programs including The Cowgirl Congress, a symposium for women western gear makers.

The Museum’s permanent collection is growing. This year we have received some exciting new additions, and I’d like to thank our generous donors.

Fundraising is an ongoing process, and TAM is fortunate to be partnered with Breaking Boundaries to help with Beer Fest. We had another successful Off-the-Wall art sale, and will be planning some new events for the coming year. The Art of Golf was well attended, and the upcoming Beaux Cadeaux is always popular!

Our education programs continue to grow. During the 2018-19 school year we brought art to 15,000 students in the community.

The Museum Artists continue to hold Open Studio sessions, as well as member exhibits and Connecting Points presentations. Fourteen of the twenty artists involved in the My Artepreneur Program are from eastern Idaho. This intensive art-centered business development program is made possible through the Idaho Commission on the Arts.

As President of the TAM board, this past year has been my pleasure to work with the staff and volunteers and see the passion and creativity that they bring to this organization. It’s obvious that everyone involved is here because they share a passion for art, and a need to share it with those around them. Our community is a richer place because of this jewel on the river, and hopefully we will soon see some exciting new additions to our wonderful facility!

ARTworks

Piloted in 2003, TAM provides visual arts opportunities to the community of eastern Idaho by taking art processes into regional elementary school classrooms to strengthen students’ understanding of and skills in the arts, bringing students to TAM for guided exhibit tours with related art lessons, and providing hands-on learning in the arts to area educators.

During the 2018 - 2019 school year, the ARTworks program impacted over 15,000 students, teachers and family members. Museum-sanctioned art instructors visited 138 elementary classrooms in the Idaho Falls area and 63 classrooms in 8 rural schools including Dubois, Arco, Firth, Soda Springs and Blackfoot, extending free hands-on art-making opportunities. TAM also provided over 58 guided exhibit tours with art lessons to area schools reaching over 1,700 elementary through high school students.

Free quarterly Family Days to the public offered art-making opportunities to more than 5,000 community members and strengthened their understanding of our exhibited artwork. In addition, TAM provided monthly art visits to preschool students at Head Start and adults at State Hospital South.

Each month, in collaboration with Newspapers in Education, TAM offered a full-page, full-color art lesson and highlighted a student artist in the local newspaper, the Post Register (circulation 70,000).

KIDStudio

The CHC KIDStudio provides child-friendly interactive art opportunities for families visiting The Art Museum. Sculpture, drawing and design materials are available, and the room also offers a wall-mounted drawing easel, a magnetic shapes wall activity board, children’s art books and puzzles and an inset light box table for color exploration. In addition, an exhibit scavenger hunt is available to encourage young visitors to engage fully with museum exhibits.

Youth Classes

In 2018 - 2019, youth classes such as Make a Mess, FIVE, Art Attack, Art Studio, and Mud Club were offered to children ages 3 - 14. Students explored core art principles, developed fine art techniques and engaged in a broad range of art-making processes from drawing to sculpture. In March, TAM and the Idaho Falls Zoo collaborated again on a spring break camp for students ages 5 - 12. Participants spent two days at the zoo and two days at The Art Museum exploring art forms inspired by the close study of animals and their habitats.

In December 2018 and April 2019 TAM collaborated with The Museum of Idaho by presenting cross-curricular art lessons to students during their Night at the Museum events. In the summer of 2019, TAM offered three ARTrek camps for youth ages 6 - 13. Students explored traditional and contemporary art forms and artists from cultures around the world.

Classes and Workshops for Adults

During 2018 - 2019, TAM offered a diverse range of classes and workshops for adults including watercolor workshops with Mareth Warren, Christine Fortner and Gloria Miller Allen; printmaking with Bernadette Regnier; and oil and acrylic painting classes with David Jones and Shushana Rucker. In addition, TAM offered monthly ceramics classes with Dustin Thompson. TAM’s Monday night Open Studio sessions held twice a month provided Museum Artists the opportunity to refine their drawing and painting skills with a range of live models.

Adult classes engage new and emerging artists, allowing beginning students to develop their own artistic voice and advance in techniques. Intermediate and advanced classes and workshops help established artists connect with new approaches and refine their skills.

In March the annual Young at Art exhibit and the Congressional Art Competition featured the artwork of over 700 east Idaho students, grades K - 9 and over 100 high school students from the second Congressional District. In June 2019, TAM hosted its annual Summer Workshop for Educators, providing art training for regional teachers with multiple ways to incorporate art into their curriculum. Educators ranging from preschool to high school participated and explored drawing, painting, printmaking and ceramic processes.

TAM Education Director, Alexa Stanger was the recipient of the 2018 Governor’s Support of Arts Education Award. Alexa is picture here with Governor Butch Otter and Lori Otter.
TAM volunteers, the heart of the museum, provide countless hours of donated time and offset thousands of dollars in labor costs. From exhibits to education, to building maintenance and fundraisers, our volunteers provide the manpower that helps us fulfill our mission. Our volunteers greet visitors, make sales in the gift shop, help plan and hang exhibits, assist with education outreach tours and Family Day art activities, and provide support for our fundraisers by directing traffic, delivering goods, setting up signs, repairing bicycles, helping with auctions and much more. They even help maintain TAM’s beautiful water features and sensory gardens.

TAM has enlisted the services of Nancy Koonce, a CPA and fraud specialist at Ataraxis Accounting. Koonce’s extensive knowledge of accounting for nonprofits has provided invaluable guidance to TAM. “Keeping nonprofit financial records for a public museum is different from bookkeeping at a ‘for profit’ business or entity. Nancy’s counsel provides a whole new level of accountability and transparency to our financials,” according to Jessica Hull Livesay, Business Manager. Koonce provides excellent technical advice and counsel along with reviewing the books on a monthly basis.

2018 - 2019 Memorials, Legacies and Restricted Fund Donations

The Art Museum of Eastern Idaho dedicates memorial, legacy and honoraria contributions to the acquisition of permanent art collection pieces as designated by the donor. If the donor expresses a different expectation, that wish is honored.

Donations to the Scholarship Fund offset the cost of tuition for at-need students and also subsidize art tours for classes from qualifying low-income schools. In 2018 - 2019, $350 was provided to schools for tours with accompanying exhibit-based art lessons along with busing. TAM also provided three students with summer camp scholarships and 15 students with after-school art class scholarships.

Museum Artist

Since 2007, the Museum Artist have participated in a membership category of TAM that is dedicated to providing a positive and enriching venue for the community of artists at all stages in their personal development, contributing to the achievement of the cultural and educational missions of the museum. They provide financial, in-kind and volunteer support to TAM. In 2018 - 2019, individual members donated pieces of their own original art to the Century Ride, Art and Ale and the Art of Golf and also volunteered at fundraisers and Family Days. Three Studio Gallery exhibits showcased original artwork by members of the Museum Artists group during the 2018 -19 exhibit season.
